VOL XVIII.—NO 113 PORTLAND, OREGON: FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1878. PRICE—TEN CENTS

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Turning out Officers

WEST POINT, June 13—Gen Hancock and staff were present at the exercises after the dress parade this afternoon of the first class Full details of the exercises were marched to the front and formed in front of a platform Upon the platform were President Hayes, Gens Sherman, Sheridan and Schofield the cadets, Cadet Captain Adam Schofield the cadets Cadet Captain

A formal address to the graduates was delivered by Gov James Lewis of the third district Gov Hayes, who was received with loud cheers, followed when quiet was restored by the address as follows

Mr Cadets The very limited opportunity that has been allowed to make ourselves familiar with the features and to make ourselves acquainted with the distinguishing characteristics of the members of the class of 1878 at this Academy, has not permitted me to say much to these young gentlemen to-day But what we have seen and heard of you, gentlemen, during the short time we have been here, has given us the most favorable impression of the thoroughness and excellence of the instruction which you have received at this Institution Here something more than learning is required The training which leads up to the best specimens of manhood and womanhood is not always learning, and so, young gentlemen, I feel authorized to say to you that we are hopefully impressed with the evidences which we have seen of your manliness and sympathized with you in the pride which you must feel in the parade those favorable impressions which you have made upon the people who have come to see you from your distant homes and firesides Home and fireside, sweet Home and fireside, these are the words which touch all hearts and which fill all eyes with tears Let me sympathize with you in your enthusiasm and pride

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 14 1878

OREGON PIONEERS

It is but a few years since much the larger number of the people of Oregon and Washington were those who had toiled across the great plains the earlier ones finding transportation by pack animals and these that followed somewhat later coming with wagon trains. That adventurous movement is passing out of reality and into tradition. The larger part now here know nothing of the pioneer emigration but a few years more ones of those who had that experience will have passed away. Time will now every year more and yet more rapidly diminish their numbers. Even now the trip across the plains in the old fashion begins to appear only as a tale that is told. That migration to those who did not participate in it is an incomprehensible thing while to those who shared in its toils and braved its dangers it is a distant recollection of what seems a half mythical adventure already almost as far outward on the verge of the unreal as the voyage of the Argonauts. It seems an adventure of a heroic age, and it is thought of now as a thing almost beyond the present compass of human possibility. Accustomed to the change that has been wrought we forget what we can do. It would look now as if it must have been a foolhardy undertaking. And yet what was it for energy and courage? That sort of material wrought into the foundation of states will support their superstructure. For generations to come these states will retain much of the distinctive character given them by the early immigration. The child is father of the man.

The pioneer association now assembling at Salem perpetuates these memories fitly and links the past with the present generation. It is remarked by one who has most profoundly examined the foundations and structure of human society, and who has gone with deepest insight into the principles of its progress and conservation, that a people who do not look back to their ancestors with reverence will not look forward to the welfare of their posterity. It is fit that the spirit and purposes of the by gone time should be preserved. In spite of the tendency of the present time, it must not be forgotten that all that is valuable is not included in the things that are new. The country is anxious for the prosecution of great enterprises, the hurry of business, the bustle of trade, the accumulation of wealth, but after all, in the new era now manifestly coming on, shall we be a better a happier, or a more contented people? Are not our pioneers celebrating our golden age?

WHO IS GOVERNOR?

Though it cannot yet be said positively that Thayer is elected governor, the chances certainly are that way. If Grant has given Beekman twenty majority, as advices indicate, Thayer is ten ahead, unless his majority in Umatilla and Baker fall below the figures heretofore given, namely, 316 in the former and 160 in the latter. Beekman got a remarkable vote in his own county but this was offset by results elsewhere that could not have been anticipated. It was supposed by most persons who have given the subject attention that the greenback movement would call off more Democratic than Republican votes. But the contrary was the result. In Linn and Lane a majority of recruits for the Greenback party were from the Republican ranks. Comparison of the vote with that of 1876, proves this in a most conclusive way. Had there been no greenback movement Lane would have given Beekman a majority and Thayer's majority in Linn would be much reduced. It has been said that Republican politicians encouraged the greenback side-show, especially in Linn, under a supposition that it would give them an advantage. The result proves that these devices and experiments don't pay. Again, Beekman lost a good many votes in Multnomah through the various expedients employed to elect the "straight" legislative ticket here. So great was the eagerness to get votes for this ticket that many of the other Republican candidates, including governor, congressman district attorney and sheriff, were swapped out of votes by wholesale. The independent Republicans threw for the state ticket several hundred votes that went against the "straight" legislative ticket, and if all others who voted the latter had voted the former, Beekman's majority in Multnomah would be double what it is. Eagerness to elect the "regular" candidates for the legislature was attended by corresponding indifference on other points. The vote of the state is much increased. It was supposed very generally that the immigration had favored the Republicans, but it is only truth to say that the count of votes does not show such result.

SCHOOL TAXES

A letter from Goshen Lane county raises certain questions in regard to qualifications of voters in school meetings and deduction of indebtedness and exemptions from assessments for school purposes. It has been decided by the supreme court that the general law allowing indebtedness to be deducted, as well as the exemption of $300, applies to assessments in school districts. This was held at the late term of the supreme court in a case taken up from Multnomah county. Another and a different question is whether a person whose indebtedness and exemption equals or exceed his valuation in the district may vote at a school meeting. We are not aware of any authoritative ruling on this subject, but think the statute cited in the letter published in another place should be construed according to its obvious intent. Beyond question it is the intent of the statute that a tax in a district shall be voted only by actual taxpayers. The reason of this is apparent. We should say, therefore, that one who returns an indebtedness exceeding his valuation and who consequently is not an actual taxpayer cannot claim the right to vote a tax on the property of the district. This is an interpretation which jumps all the technicalities and construes the statute according to its undoubted meaning which plainly is that only those who actually pay taxes in a school district shall vote taxes.

Major McDonald, chief clerk of the senate of the United States, is reported ill with small chance of recovery. What is remarkable about him is his long tenure of office. He has had forty two years of uninterrupted service in the office of secretary of the senate. His father, John G McDonald, was the chief clerk of the senate having been appointed in 1809 by Samuel Otis first secretary of the senate as page in 1810. In 1818 he was appointed clerk and when his father died he succeeded him in the office which he has held to this time. Thus father and son have held the office for 68 years. Major McDonald has a son, now one of his subordinates who aspires to succeed him and it is solemnly thought by some people that the office is becoming Major McDonald has known more public men intimately than any person in the United States and no man ever served in the senate whose performance characterists and peculiarities he could not describe. Another old and faithful servant of the senate is Isaac Russell as instant sergeant at arms who entered the senate as a page over sixty years ago and has served continuously ever since.

The clear pursons who even though they have a keen sense of truth sometimes manage to preserve a small balance of fraud in such moral operations but the editor of the Astorian is so preeminently a transparent as to say that we probably told a story to New York and then published it as coming from the Times. Does the Times depend on these methods for its editorials? It will not satisfy the editor at Astoria to be an ass with moderate limits without aspiring to be a superlative excessive immoderate superlative and phenomenal ass. This is an ambition he should fling away.

Among the statements and reports printed in connection with the proceedings of the Oregon state fair of last year we find several certificates of remarkable yield of agricultural products. P M Rinearson cultivated half an acre of white Belgium carrots the yield of which was 742 bushels the rate being 1 484 bushels to an acre. His yield of onions (the yellow Danvers variety) was at the rate of 1 068 bushels an acre. From an acre of corn he obtained 106 bushels. J B Dimick of Marion county threshed from five acres 436 bushels of barley. This last yield was grown on what is known as beaver dam land. The other crops reported grew on what is described as sandy soil — Clackamas bottom we suppose.

A writer in the Catholic World for June 8 is down an opinion against Benjamin Franklin thus: The influence of that man's example and writings has been one of the most baleful in our country's history. The fathomless depths of his pride the cool assurance of his virtue the intensely worldly spirit of his maxims, and his Pharisaical reward of worldly honors in this world have been imitated by thousands of American youth.

OREGON

The vote of Wasco is 1 486. In November 1876 it was 1 112.

Rev T A Hyland for 14 years rector of St Paul's parish Astoria, has gone.

Union county throws 1 160 votes on governor. The vote on president in 1876 was 923.

Reith Bros in Umatilla sheared from 1 860 sheep 21,120 lbs of wool an average of 11 lbs 5 oz to the sheep.

The Presbyterians of Astoria have secured a place for worship over Wells Fargo & Co's which they will occupy until they can build a house of their own.

THE OREGONIAN is requested to state that the Christadelphians will hold a grove meeting beginning Friday June 21 and hold over Sunday one mile southeast of McMinnville, on Mrs A Martin's place. A cordial invitation extended to all. L I Nichols and H C Plummer speakers.

A letter from Canyon City from reliable source, dated 9 h gives the following majorities: Whiteaker 8, Beekmen 20, Earhart 57, Hirsch 109, Carter 33, Powell 21. Parrish for district attorney has 100 majority. The Democratic candidate for state senator is elected by 1, and the Democratic representative by 6 majority. These figures are not wholly official but assurance is given that the result will not be changed.

BEAUTY: OR, THE Secret of a Fair Face.
An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.
Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred submitted to the whims of an American climate possesses that rosia and startling point of real health—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has denied art rarely bestows upon the female countenance. Cold, pale and sickly hues, displaced beauty within the reach of every lady, and a single trial of Dr. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream or Pearl Tooth Powder will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful effects in producing a clear, healthy and youthful appearance. These articles may be had of the Agents for the Pacific Coast, and of druggists generally. Ladies who want to make their complexion perfect can make an absolute certainty by using Dr. Felix Gouraud's ORIENTAL BALM and working off all other worthless preparations in the world at once and forever. Oriental Cream, or Magical Beautifier, removes in a few days Tan, Freckles, Pimples, Rash, Redness, Chloasma, or Liver Spots, and renders the skin soft, clear, beautiful and blooming. Gouraud's Oriental Tooth Powder, 25 cents per box. Gouraud's Oriental Toilet Soap, medicated with Oriental Balm, unrivaled for the toilet and bath. Sold by druggists and fancy goods dealers throughout the United States, Europe and the Pacific Coast. Depot, 48 Great Jones street, New York. Ask for Gouraud's Oriental Cream, or Magical Beautifier. MAGNOLIA BALM
The Magnolia Balm is a perfect liquid, for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It counteracts all unnatural blemishes with the most surprising and perfect manner. It removes all sunburn, tan, freckles, redness, blotches, freckles, and in their place with magical power it diffuses a beautiful, delicate, transparent, healthful clearness and softness, a radiant brilliancy and a new grace, producing a delightful freshness and purity of complexion, which cannot be detected. The Magnolia Balm is the only article of the kind used by the Ladies of Paris, and is pronounced by them to be the most natural, harmless and reliable beautifier in the world. It is the only one that will not injure the most delicate skin, even after long and constant use. It is the only one that will not injure the most delicate skin, even after long and constant use. PRESIDENTIAL.—A dispatch from San Francisco received yesterday says that the steamer Great Republic will certainly sail from San Francisco for Portland on the 20th inst., in opposition to the Oregon Steamship Company whose steamer Pacific Coast steamship Company whose steamers are now between the two ports. The Idaho is engaging to the latter company will also leave on Saturday, and as an inducement to passengers and shippers passage for the trip has been placed at $5, and freight will be carried at $1 per ton. These rates are far below paying basis. The Oregon Steamship Company has not yet taken any action towards reduction of rates and what it will do is matter of speculation. But as it and the P C have been running for the past few months in opposing the new line will be Flounder's Garden containing 6 rooms, house &c. Apply at Thompson House.

OREGON PIONEERS

It is but a few years since the much the larger number of the people of Oregon and Washington were those who had toiled across the great plains the earlier ones finding transportation by pack animals and those that followed somewhat later coming with wagon trains That adventure is now even spoken of as one of reality and into tradition The larger part now here know nothing of the pioneer emigration In a few years in respect of those who had that experience will have passed away Time will now every year more and yet more rapidly lift such their numbers Even now the trip across the plains in the old fashioned way to appear only as a tale that is told That migration to those who did not participate in it is an incomprehensible thing while to those who shared in its toils and brave perils it is a distant recollection of what seems a half mythical adventure already almost as far outward on the verge of the unreal as the voyage of the Argonauts It seems an adventure of a heroic age and it is thought of now as a thing almost beyond the present compass of human possibility Accustomed to the change that has been wrought we forget what we can do It would look now as if it must have been a foolhardy undertaking And yet what was it for energy and courage? That sort of material wrought into the foundation of states will support their superstructure For generations to come these states will retain much of the distinctive character given them by the early immigration The child is father of the man

The pioneer association now assembling at Salem perpetuates these memories fitly and links the past with the present generation It is remarked by one who has most profoundly examined the foundations and structure of human society and who has gone with deepest insight into the principles of its progress and conservation, that a people who do not look back to their ancestors with reverence will not look forward to the welfare of their posterity It is fit that the spirit and purposes of the by gone time should be preserved In spite of the tendency of the present time it must not be forgotten that all that is valuable is not included in the things that are new. The country is anxious for the prosecution of great enterprises the hurry of business, the bustle of trade the accumulation of wealth, but after all, in the new era now manifestly coming on, shall we be a better a happier, or a more contented people? Are not our pioneers celebrating our golden age?

WHO IS GOVERNOR?

Though it cannot yet be said positively that Thayer is elected governor the chances certainly are that way If Grant has given Beekman twenty majority as advices indicate, Thayer is ten ahead, unless his majority in Umatilla and Baker fall below the figures heretofore given, namely 316 in the former and 160 in the latter. Beekman got a remarkable vote in his own county but this was offset by results elsewhere that could not have been anticipated. It was supposed by most persons who have given the subject attention that the greenback movement would call off more Democratic than Republican votes. But the contrary was the result In Linn and Lane a majority of recruits for the Greenback party were from the Republican ranks Comparison of the vote with that of 1876, proves this in a most conclusive way Had there been no greenback movement Lane would have given Beekman a majority and Thayer's majority in Linn would be much reduced It has been said that Republican politicians encouraged the greenback side-show, especially in Linn, under a supposition that it would give them an advantage The result proves that these devices and experiments don't pay Again, Beekman lost a good many votes in Multnomah through the various expedients employed to elect the "straight" legislative ticket here So great was the eagerness to get votes for this ticket that many of the other Republican candidates, including governor congressman district attorney and sheriff were swapped out of votes by wholesale The independent Republicans threw for the state ticket several hundred votes that went against the "straight" legislative ticket, and if all others who voted the latter had voted the former, Beekman's majority in Multnomah would be double what it is. Eagerness to elect the "regular" candidates for the legislature was attended by corresponding indifference on other points The vote of the state is much increased. It was supposed very generally that the immigration had favored the Republicans, but it is only truth to say that the count of votes does not show such result

SCHOOL TAXES

A letter from Goshen, Lane county raises certain questions in regard to qualifications of voters in school meetings and deduction of indebtedness and exemptions from assessments for school purposes. It has been decided by the supreme court that the general law allowing indebtedness to be deducted as well as the exemption of $300, applies to assessments in school districts This was held at the late term of the supreme court in a case taken up from Multnomah county. Another and a different question is whether a person whose indebtedness and exemption equals or exceed his valuation in the district may vote at a school meeting We are not aware of any authoritative ruling on this subject, but think the statute cited in the letter published in another place should be construed according to its obvious intent Beyond question it is the intent of the statute that a tax in a district shall be voted only by actual taxpayers. The reason of this is apparent We should say, therefore, that one who returns an indebtedness exceeding his valuation and who consequently is not an actual taxpayer cannot claim the right to vote a tax on the property of the district This is an interpretation which jumps all the technicalities and construes the statute according to its undoubted meaning which plainly is that only those who actually pay taxes in a school district shall vote taxes

Major McDonald chief clerk of the senate of the United States is reported to have a small chance of recovery What is remarkable about him is his long tenure of office. He has had forty two years of uninterrupted service in the office of secretary of the senate His father John G McDonald was the chief clerk of the senate having been appointed in 1800 by Samuel Otis first secretary of the senate The son succeeded the service of the senate as page in 1830 In 1841 he was appointed clerk and when his father died he succeeded him in the office which he has held to this time Thus father and son have held the office for 59 years Major McDonald has a son now one of his subordinates who aspires to succeed him and it is solemnly thought by some people that the office is [illegible] McDonald has known more

Legal tenders in Portland—buying 99½ selling par.

Silver coin, 2@2½ per cent. discount.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Standard silver dollars of silver dollar certificates, 90¾ bid, 90¾ asked; legal tenders firm at 89½ buying, selling at par. Brokers buying half dollars to-day at 2-32 per cent discount and selling them at 1-16 per cent. discount; trades 90¾ buying, 90¾ selling. Mexicans 89½ buying, 90 selling.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Post says clearing-house returns form seventeen cities of the United S[illegible] for the week ending June 8 show a decrease of [illegible] cent. as compared with the corresponding week last year. The cities are as follows: New York, 7.4; Boston, 6; Chicago, 9.5; Cincinnati, 12; Baltimore, 4.7; St. Louis, 6.2; New Orleans, 14.6; Milwaukee, 7.3; Louisville, 12.5; Pittsburg, 7.8; Cleveland, 11.6; New Haven, 7.1; Lowell, 1. The gains are: Philadelphia, 6; Providence, 8.5; Indianapolis, 11.4; San Francisco for the week ending June 1st, 13.6. As the falling in principal has been more than 10 per cent. since May, 1877, there is conclusive proof that the business transacted, measured in quantities exchanged, is larger than it was one year ago. This is more evident if the great decrease in sales of stock at New York are taken into account. For the par value of stock sold last week was about $47,000,000 less than the par value of stocks sold here during the first week of June, 1877. Exchanges arising from other business, therefore, are quite as large at New York as they were last year. If the sales of stock or Hoarly cause exchanges equal to the first week in June in more than a year, Philadelphia reports an increase in exchanges, and singularly, this happens where the losses appear at all other considerable cities except San Francisco, the largest important cities the losses are less than the decline in prices and at Boston the change is insignificant.

Domestic Produce.

In this department of trade a moderate amount of business has been done during the week, but the aggregate volume of transactions is never large in our home market at this period in the season, except in the salmon and wool trade, and in these two commodities the movement throughout the entire season has been lighter than average. This is especially true in regard to wool. A trade circular of this date says:

Prices have again given way, and the market at the moment seems to be fairly demoralised. Our telegraphic advices from San Francisco report an increasing dullness in all qualities of wool that have reached market, and present prospects are so gloomy and discouraging that it is quite possible we have not yet seen the worst. This state of matters is the natural outcome of over production and the reckless system of trading that has long prevailed in manufacturing circles, and the reports of many failures with the accompanying depression occasioned thereby, has had a most unfavorable influence on every market throughout the country. It has now become a question whether it will be better to sell now and face a known loss, or ship east via the Horn in the hope that by the time the wool can reach market, prices may recuperate somewhat. Yesterday in San Francisco some choice parcels of valley wool changed hands at as low as 22½ cts. and for eastern Oregon 18 cents is now an extreme figure.

The wheat trade is very dull just now, and although there is said to be a surplus estimated at from 6,000 to 8,000 tons yet held in this state, it is not probable that any great proportion of it will be drawn out before harvest, as there seems no likelihood that prices will improve between this and the incoming of the new crop. The tonnage market for wheat ships is also dull, though the movement for the last few days, in charters both here and at San Francisco is more active. Rates are a little firmer and first class vessels for the trade are held at 60s. and upward. The crop prospects are still good, though the very warm weather of the past week has rather detracted from the conditions favorable to the fullest perfection of the plant; but still the promise of an abundant yield is not materially lessened. The first lot of the new crop of wheat in California was put on the San Francisco market to-day and sold at $1 70, choice old selling at 10 cents more. Our market may be fairly quoted at $1 55@1 60, with very little doing. Flour is in good demand here at $5@5 50 per bbl for best brands, and inferior grades at a correspondingly lower price. Oats are dull sale and none except choice lots command over 40 cts. per bushel. Mill feed, barley, hay, etc., is in supply adequate to all demand and trade is dull. Provisions are in over supply, and though the movement is a little more active for bacon, lard, etc., prices are still depressed by the stocks which leading houses are endeavoring to work off. Butter is not coming forward so freely, but still there is more than enough in the market to meet the wants of the trade, and prices are unimproved. Eggs are quiet and weak at the quotations given, with little encouragement to shippers to operate. Dried fruits are higher, but toward the close of the week prices show more tendency to lower rates than otherwise. Potatoes are still quite high, but the trade in old is about over and quotations nearly nominal for such. A fair quality of new California is in the market.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The general tendency of all the markets during the past week has been downward. But little has been done here and quotations are given nominally with the wide range of $1 60@1 60 per cental.

FLOUR—Standard extras quotable $5 25@5 50 per bbl; good country brands, $5@5 25; superfine, $4 50. Demand quite active.

OATS—The call is not active or extensive; quotations 40@42½c per bushel.

BARLEY—Receipts, which are quite light, are all taken for local consumption at $1 40@1 50 per cwt. No shipments are being made.

MILL FEED—Supply fair, bran quotable at $17 50 per ton, shorts $20, middlings $30@32 50.

POTATOES—We remark a falling off in the receipts and a good demand, quotations being given at $1 50@2 per bushel, as per condition, quality and wants of buyer.

HAY—Receipts fair; prices range from $10@11 per ton for baled timothy and $8 50@9 for loose do.

ONIONS—In fair demand for the local trade, and for shipment, quotable at $2 per ℔ for best varieties.

BACON—The market is amply supplied for the home demand and prices are lower. Quotations are 10@11c per sides, 12@13c for hams, and 7½@8½c for shoulders.

LARD—The demand is good and the market firm at 10@12½ cents ℔ ℔ in tins and kegs.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter, solid, 10@12½c ℔ ℔; brine, 14@16c; choice dairy 20c; cheese, quotable at 15@18c ℔ ℔. Market quiet, dull.

EGGS—The demand is dull at 18c per dozen.

CHICKENS—Very choice hens, $6 50 per dozen; mixed lots, $5 50; spring chickens, $4@4 50.

DRIED APPLES—Demand active; quotable at 3½@3½c ℔ ℔ for sun dried.

DRIED PLUMS—Wild pits, 4½@5c; pitless, 10@12c ℔ ℔.

WOOL—Receipts larger, but buyers are operating very cautiously. Good to choice quotable at 18@21 cents, inferior to common from 15@18 cents per ℔. San Francisco market being a little better, shipments thence are large.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' diseases the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great success in curing.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skilful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the 1st Medical Schools in Europe and these years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
